The University Hospital of North Midlands is proud to be a Veteran Aware Hospital

Please let a member of staff know if you, or your spouse/partner, have ever served in the UK armed forces so that we can best support your care needs.

Being flagged as a veteran in your NHS medical notes will help ensure you are able to access specific veterans' health services, such as those for mental health, hearing loss, limb amputation or wheelchairs.

All veterans are entitled to priority access to NHS care (including hospital, primary or community care) for conditions associated with their time in the armed forces (service-related).

But this is always subject to clinical need and doesn't entitle you to jump the queue ahead of someone with a higher clinical need.

Improving care for veterans across the NHS

The University Hospital of North Midlands is a member of the Veterans Covenant Hospital Alliance, sharing and driving best practice in NHS care for people who serve or have served in the UK armed forces and their families, in line with the Armed Forces Covenant.

What you can expect in this hospital

- We support the health commitments of the Armed Forces Covenant.
- We are committed to ensuring no disadvantage and giving special consideration where appropriate.
- We have educated and trained all relevant staff to identify and respond to veterans' needs.
- We also support the UK armed forces community as an employer.

What other support is available?

There are many service charities and organisations. The Veterans' Gateway is a first point of contact for veterans and their families. It provides information, advice and support by phone (0808 802 1212), text (81212) and online at:

www.veteransgateway.org.uk

We work with a range of extra services for the armed forces community and will signpost you to any that could benefit you, including:

- Big White Wall who provide safe anonymous support to anyone struggling with common mental health issues and can be contacted at www.bigwhitewall.com via a smartphone app, members can talk to each other anonymously and share experiences and follow guided self help courses and topics such as managing anxiety, dealing with alcohol, getting better sleep. Test and guides to improve wellbeing and trained counsellors (called Wall Guides) are on hand at all times to moderate the service and provide support.
- Combat Stress/Rethink who provide emotional support and a listening ear can be contacted on a 24 hour freephone Helpline 0800 138 1619 or helpline@combatstress.org.uk
- Help for Heroes contact Helpline 01980 844280 or www.helpforheroes.org.uk/get-support
- NHS Veterans' Mental Health Transition, Intervention and Liaison Service 0300 323 0137 Midlands or East of England.
- Royal British Legion, The Bird in Hand, 1 Victoria Road, Stafford, ST16 2AQ. Helpline 0808 802 8080.
- SSAFA. Staffordshire@ssaf.org.uk contact 01785 212680 or Helpline 0800 7314880.
- The Poppy Factory, provide employment support for veterans with mental and physical health conditions. Contact 0208 940 3305 or admin@poppyfactory.org
- Walking with the wounded (WWTW) contact 01263 863900 or info@wwtw.org.uk
- Defence Medical Welfare Service officers who will assist the patient in identifying services provided by service charities and other organisations.

The University of North Midlands can signpost you to put you in touch with the organisations best placed to help with the information, advice and support - from healthcare and housing to employability, finances and personal relationships.

How could you get involved in the NHS?

The NHS can benefit significantly from the skills and experience you bring from your military training and service. Veteran Aware hospitals support the employment of veterans and reservists in the NHS workforce and will be involved either in the 'Employer Recognition Scheme' or the 'Step Into Health' scheme. Armed Forces Covenant

The NHS is committed to the Armed Forces Covenant, which is a promise by the nation that those who serve or who have served in the UK armed forces, and their families, will be treated fairly. It has two key principles:

- The armed forces community should not face disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services.

- Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

You and your families should not be at a disadvantage in accessing appropriate health services; for example, if you are on a waiting list and are moving.

The NHS always prioritises people with the most urgent clinical need. At the same time, we must recognise your health and social needs and act on them. We are working to make sure this happens.
