Dear

I am writing to acknowledge receipt of your email dated 26th April 2021 requesting information under the Freedom of Information Act (2000) regarding foreign objects stuck

The University Hospitals of North Midlands Trust is committed to the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

However, the NHS is facing unprecedented challenges relating to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic at the current time. Understandably, our resources have been diverted to support our front-line colleagues who are working tremendously hard to provide care for our patients, and to those in need of our services.

We strive to be transparent and to work with an open culture. But at this time, whilst care of our patients and the safety of our staff takes precedent, it is likely that responses to some requests for information will be delayed. We apologise for this position in advance, and will endeavour to provide you with as much information as we can, as soon as we are able.

The Information Commissioners Office has recognised the current situation in the NHS

On the same day we contacted you via email as we required the following clarification:
What the difference is between Q1 and 2 as they appear to be the same, also please note we don't "admit" patients to AE they "attend" AE

On the same day you replied via email with the following:
'Apologies. Q1 and Q2 are written in different ways, but they are the same question. Therefore, this can be one question.
I would like to know how many people have 'attended' AE, please'

As of 1st November 2014 University Hospitals of North Midlands NHS Trust (UHNM) manages two hospital sites – Royal Stoke University Hospital, and County Hospital (Stafford). Therefore the response below is for the two sites combined from that date where appropriate.

Q1 How many patients have had foreign objects stuck inside their anus or rectum over the past 3 years from your NHS Trust.

A1 We are unable to provide the information you require in the requested format as to release this data could lead to the identification of the person(s) involved due to the low numbers involved, and would breach the Trusts obligations under Data Protection Act 2018. Accordingly, this aspect of your request is exempt from disclosure under the terms of Section 40(2) of the FOI Act. Personal information. However as the Trust is committed to openness and transparency we can band the numbers as being <5 - <15

This exemption is an absolute exemption and therefore no consideration of the public interest test is needed.

Q2 I would like information on how many patients have been admitted into A&E to have an item (foreign object) removed from their rectum since the 26th of April 2018.

A2 Repeat of question 1

Q3 If possible, I would like to have details as to what this object was, and whether the patient was male or female. Any other information you can provide is always grateful

A3 As answer 1
